

WHERE MAN MEETS NATURE

Fab Studio designs a modern farmhouse in Chattarpur, New Delhi, where contemporary living meets nature's tranquility

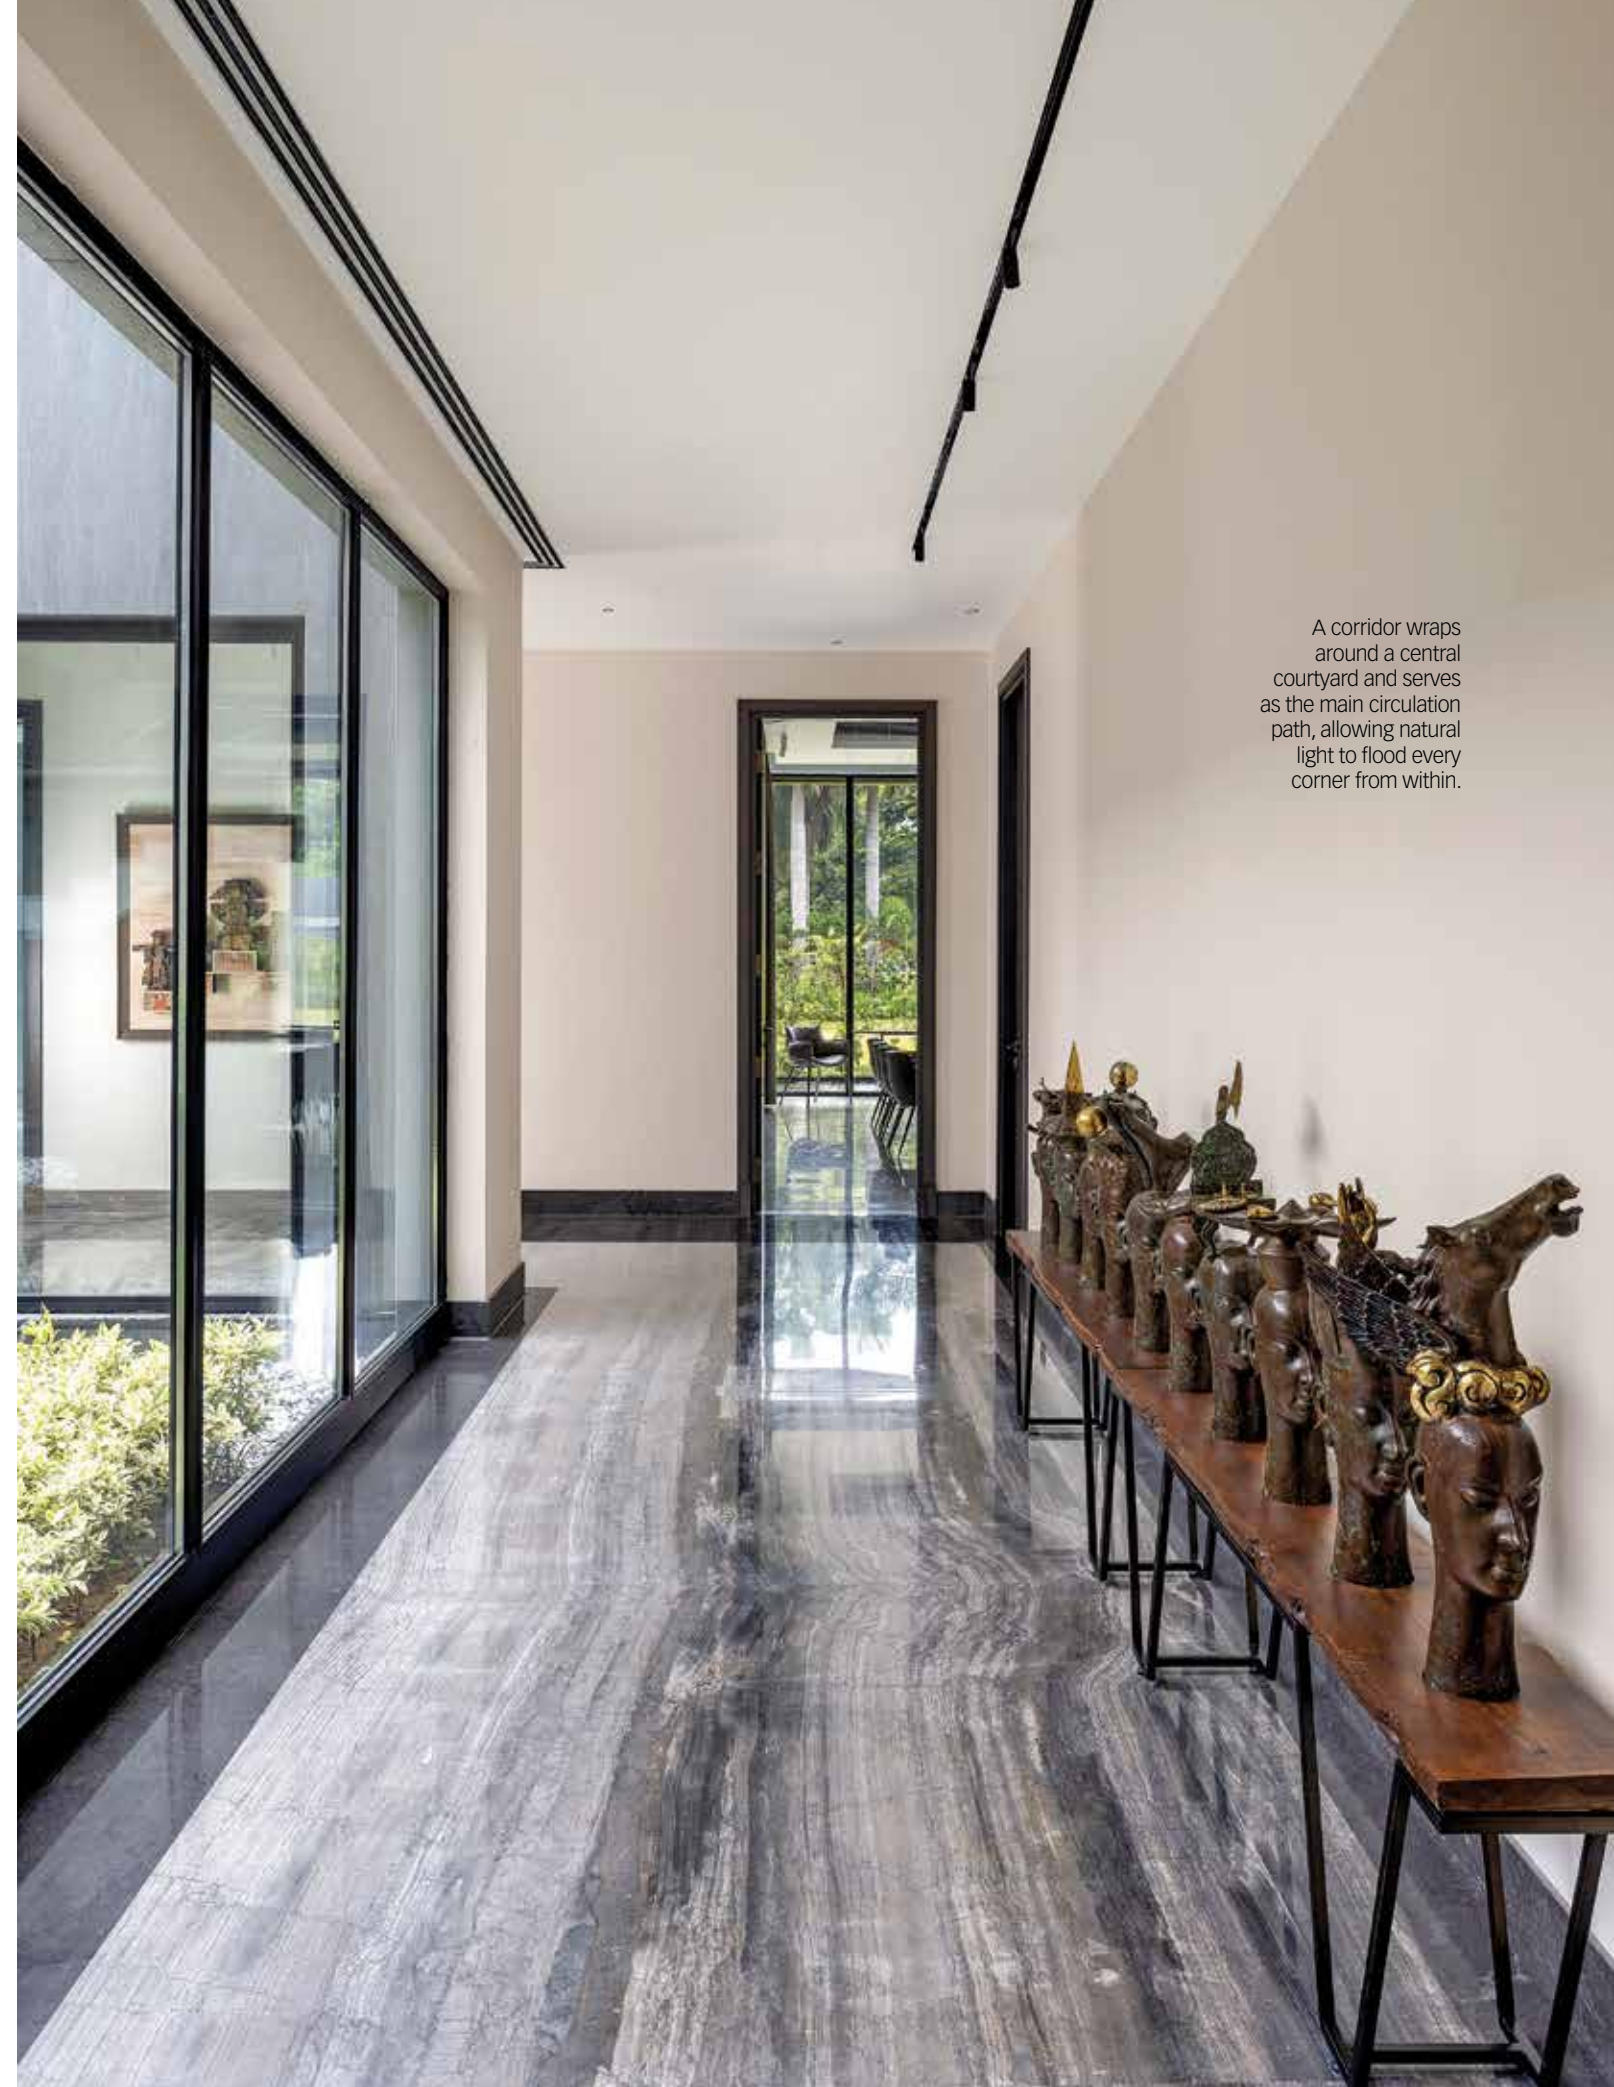

Text NEERJA KAPADIA Images ZCYPHER

"The minimalistic grey facade, strategically-placed windows for maximum natural light and bespoke art-inspired textures on the walls reflect the thoughtful design that complements the home's natural surroundings."

— Jaskaran Singh, Principal Architect, Fab Studio

A corridor wraps around a central courtyard and serves as the main circulation path, allowing natural light to flood every corner from within.

“High ceilings and tactical lighting help achieve openness in each space. Furthermore, the design ethos accentuates architectural nuances throughout the farmhouse.”

— Jaskaran Singh, Principal Architect, Fab Studio

This single-storey residence, spread across four acres is designed by Jaskaran Singh, principal architect of Fab Studio. Keeping the ease of accessibility and a sense of openness in mind, the studio collaborated with landscape architect Ashish Teli to execute this architectural marvel. The key spaces comprising bedrooms, living areas, a dining room, a home office, a courtyard and a swimming pool are on the ground floor.

The spacious living room, positioned to capture views of the gardens and courtyard, feels almost like a semi-open pavilion thanks to strategically placed windows and doors. Large-scale artworks and soft pastel hues exude a calming ambience, while sunlight filtering through surrounding trees adds a playful interplay of light and shadow. The home office, flooded with natural light, offers a peaceful retreat for work. Its custom furnishings and ergonomic design make it a perfect space for focus and productivity. In the dining room, bespoke pendant lighting lends a refined elegance, ideal for intimate gatherings.

Bedrooms serve as havens of peace, with a serene colour palette and luxurious Spanish marble flooring whose rich texture adds depth. Every detail of this residence speaks to thoughtful design, offering an effortless combination of luxury and comfort. H&DT

“Our clients’ wanted a contemporary home that coalesced with nature and features water elements throughout. With the husband being an industrialist and the wife an artist, our goal was to merge their distinct tastes into a cohesive architectural vision.”

— Jaskaran Singh, Principal Architect, Fab Studio

